

POLICE HAZERS TO BE PUNISHED IN DRASTIC WAY

Deputy Com. Hanson
Recommends Cleaning
Out in Oak Street.

TO "BREAK" THREE MEN.

Clinton, Unger and Fitzgerald
Found Guilty of Hazing
Patrolman Walsh.

The most sweeping recommendation for wholesale disciplining of a police station force in the history of the department was made today by Deputy Commissioner Hanson, when he urged that three policemen be broken and the entire fourth section of the Oak street station, including two lieutenants and a doorman, be sent to the woods and scattered far and wide in various outlying precincts.

Policeman's Charges.
This decision was the climax of the sensational charges of hazing made by Patrolman Stephen S. Walsh. He accused Policemen Eugene C. Clinton, Frederick W. Unger and Christopher T. Fitzgerald of hazing him in a singularly brutal fashion. Walsh was what is known in the department as a "wrong cop"—that is, an honest man who refuses to give up to funds demanded by "the system."

In the face of sweeping denials by every officer in the Oak street station, Walsh described in detail the ruthless manner in which he had been bullied and beaten by his fellow-officers. Clinton, Unger and Fitzgerald, he said, hammered and pounded him into unconsciousness. Later they dragged him out of bed, stood him against the wall and drove their fists into his face and finally in their rage bit him on the cheek and breast.

Deputy Commissioner Hanson finished hearing testimony in the case yesterday. He announced that he believed every word of Walsh's story notwithstanding the fact that his comrades in the Oak street station had "lied by platoons."

He found Clinton, Unger and Fitzgerald guilty of the brutality charged and recommended that they be dismissed from the department forthwith. There is little doubt that Commissioner Bingham will act upon the recommendation. Mr. Hanson also recommended the transfer of Lieutenants Glynn and Lane. Doorman John P. Anthony, and every member of the fourth section of the Oak street station.

All of these men, more than twenty in number, had denied that Walsh was hazing, maintaining that on the night he was beaten there had been no commission of any sort in the station-house. Mr. Hanson said in suggesting that the entire platoon be scattered through the wooded sections of the city, where there are beats five miles long and patrol duty is considered as more or less of a heroic punishment:

Denounces the Hazers.
"I have never seen or heard of more flagrant violations of all the rules of the department than have been proved to me in this case. This sort of hazing and perjury by platoon has got to be stamped out, and in order to do so we will have to employ drastic measures."

In their final effort to spoil the effect of Walsh's story the members of the fourth section of the Oak street station declared that the "wrong cop" had always acted queerly, and was probably insane. They declared he had dreamed the story of the hazing. In order to show no partiality one way or the other, Mr. Hanson assigned Police Surgeon Smith to take Walsh under observation. Smith, after examining and observing the young man for four days, declared that he was perfectly sane and rational.

Capit. Walling, of the Oak street station, also came under fire from Mr. Hanson. He was asked the other day if Walsh had not presented to him an affidavit in which he complained of being hazed, and that if, when Walling read it, he told Walsh to burn it up. Walsh told of the affidavit on the stand, and gave the name of the notary public, Meyer Mark, of No. 42 Catharine street, before whom he saw him. Mr. Hanson corroborated Walsh. Then the Deputy Commissioner called for Walling, who had been about Police Headquarters throughout Walsh's trial, but the commander had left the building.

BEWARE OF THIS WOMAN: SHE'LL SWINDLE YOU

She Preys Upon Poor
Women Who Advertise for Positions.

Women advertising in The World and other newspapers for the position of caretaker are warned against a female swindler who has been operating extensively and profitably among such advertisements. The experience of a seeker for a position who lives in West Eighty-fourth street will serve to illustrate the methods of the confidence woman.

The advertiser inserted a request for the position of caretaker in The Sunday World. Yesterday evening a woman called upon her and talked like this: "Mrs. Jones, of No. 707 Fifth avenue, read your advertisement, and asked me to call on you. She wants a caretaker, and desires you to call at her residence to-night at nine o'clock."

The advertiser took down the name and address, and her caller departed. In a few minutes the woman returned. She said she had lost her purse and asked for the loan of $2. Her conduct was suspicious, but she managed to get fifteen cents before she went away.

The advertiser went to No. 707 Fifth avenue—the residence of Mrs. Lewis Clifford Jones—who said that several other women had been sent to her house by the mysterious caller. In each case the swindler professed to have lost her purse and requested a $2 loan. She seldom failed to get it.

STOLE MR. SHEPARD'S FOUR BRONZE VASES.

Some Time Ago He Was Relieved of a Bronze Dog.

Edward M. Shepard, former candidate for Mayor of New York, reported to the Brooklyn police to-day that thieves had stolen four bronze vases from the porch of his home, at No. 44 Pierrepont street, during the night. The vases were very heavy and worth $5 each. Some time ago one of Mr. Shepard's bronze dogs was stolen.

MILLIONAIRE BITTEN BY RABID DOG BETTER.

CINCINNATI, May 7.—William Cooper Procter, President of the Procter & Gamble Soap Company, who was bitten by one of his pet dogs last week, which was suffering from the rabies, returned from New York yesterday, where he had undergone the Pasteur treatment.

The danger to the health of the young millionaire, it was said to-day, has been entirely averted.

HERE WE HAVE THE NEW ORDER OF GAZZIZZAS

Sleuths With Black Masks
Institute It at Headquarters.

MEMBERS UNDER ARREST

Faces of Detectives Covered to Prevent Crooks from Recognizing Them.

There is a new order in town—the Order of the Gazzizza. Initiations take place every morning at 9 o'clock at No. 90 Mulberry street. Readers of The Evening World, being law-abiding citizens, are not eligible, for, be it known, to attain eligibility to candidate must be under arrest.

To-day marked the inauguration of the order and the first initiation. The lodge room is in the Detective Bureau of Police Headquarters.

"Men," said Capt. McCafferty addressing his horde of high and low browed sleuths, "the time has come. You know the orders of our beloved Commissioner."

"We do," replied the h-and-l-b-'s with one voice.

"And you have complied with the same," continued the Captain, perspiring in his anxiety.

The sleuths drew from their pockets mysterious bundles. Some of the men smoked, others grinned, others backed up against the wall and roared.

"Silence!" commanded Capt. McCafferty, his features becoming hard and stern. This is no time for levity or joking. Put on them masks.

It certainly was a fearsome sight, good citizens. There were two hundred or more sleuths with black masks on. Some of the masks fitted the lower parts of the faces; they were meant to conceal. Others covered the brows and cheeks, eyes, even the chin. Two or three sleuths—with flat visages had masks that failed to conceal the salient points of their features.

"What you guys need," declared Capt. McCafferty—to such, "is nose bags like a horse wears."

At last the masks were adjusted. Out from the hallway fifty crooks and suspected crooks, gathered in last night by Central Office men and precinct men were waiting to be lined up and viewed so that they may be known to all the lieutenants of the Central Office.

"Admit the gazzizzas," commanded Capt. McCafferty.

The crooks filed in. Were they knocked cold? They were excited. The long lines of masked men standing there in silence, the 40 pair of eyes sizing them up, contributed to a real Theodore-Kramer effect. If this situation isn't gobbled up by some busy melodramatist before next fall don't blame the Evening World.

When the surprised crooks had filed slowly past the masked line Capt. McCafferty expressed himself as pleased. The first fifty members of the Order of the Gazzizza didn't know what he thought. Hereafter the crooks have had just as much of a chance to know the faces of the detectives and vice versa, so to speak.

ACCUSED PHYSICIAN GIVES BAIL IN $5,000.

Dr. Schoonover's Lawyer Tells the Coroner Some One Impersonated Him.

Dr. Warren Schoonover, of No. 115 East Fifty-ninth street, who, it is alleged, performed an illegal operation upon Mrs. Mary Hochberg, of No. 122 Avenue D, from which the woman died, surrendered himself to-day to Coroner Harburger.

Dr. Schoonover was accompanied to the Coroner's office by Lawyer Peter R. Gatens, of No. 290 Broadway, who told Coroner Harburger Dr. Schoonover had never seen Mrs. Hochberg. Coroner Harburger admitted the accused physician to $5,000 bail, which was furnished.

Dr. Schoonover has been a practicing physician for more than forty years. For twenty years he has been the house physician and surgeon of the Northeastern Dispensary at No. 22 East Fifty-ninth street. He is prominent in medical circles, being a well-known authority on several diseases.

According to Lawyer Gatens, Dr. Schoonover must have been impersonated by another man, who deceived Mrs. Hochberg by pretending he was Dr. Schoonover.

SCHOOLGIRL IS DECLARED FREE FROM HUSBAND

Pretty Seventeen-Year-
Old Bride's Marriage
Annulled.

Katherine Weinstein, in a school girl dress of black reaching her ankles and a long black braid of hair hanging down her back, sat mute to-day while her elders presented evidence on which Justice Truax annulled her marriage to David A. Weinstein and gave her back to her parents, ex-Policeman John Slovey and his wife, Dave, who is handsome, was Abe Levy's coachman last August when he flirted with the girl at Arverne-by-the-Sea. Nineteen days later—Sept. 3—he took her to Alderman Fried, who married them. Dave says he gave his bride $60 and she went home to her papa's cottage and never would see him afterward.

John Slovey, who has been retired by the Police Department, is an invalid and made his way to the witness stand on crutches. He testified that Katie was only seventeen last summer, when Dave Weinstein married her. Mrs. Anna Slovey corroborated him, and Dr. George P. Sherman, of Williamsbridge, clinched their story by reading his record of births.

Weinstein's lawyer called Katherine to the stand in an effort to prove that she looked like a matured spinster, and showed pictures of her on postal cards in short-waists and long gowns, with her hair in Marcel waves and coils of the latest fashion.

Justice Truax awarded a decree annulling the marriage. The bride of September went home with her parents—Miss Katherine Slovey, of No. 119 West One Hundred and Twelfth street.
